Going to IIASA

Vienna and its surroundings are well served by public transport. Many apps can help you navigate: Google Maps, Citymapper, ÖBB, ÖBB Scotty, VOR AnachB, WienMobil. Do not hesitate to use them to find your way!
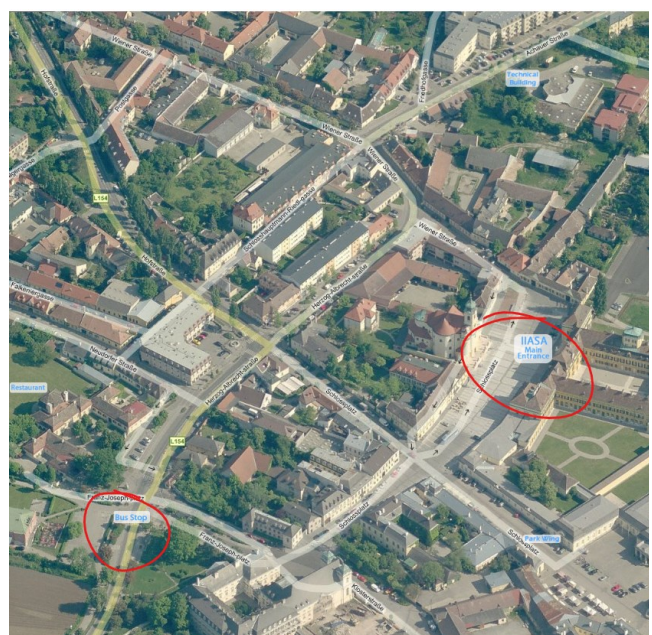

Tickets can be conveniently bought online on https://shop.oebbtickets.at/en/ticket or via the apps ÖBB, VOR AnachB, WienMobil. They can also be purchased on the ÖBB machines in train stations or directly in the bus.

There are two main ways to reach IIASA with public transport from Vienna.

- The most convenient for newcomers is the 200/210 bus lines, which depart from the central train station Wien Hauptbahnof every 30 min at H:00 and H:30. The stop for IIASA is Laxenburg Franz-Josef Platz, which is 3 min walking from IIASA. In Wien Hauptbahnof it departs from the bus platform N2 located outside of the train station. If you arrive to Wien Hauptbahnof by subway (U-Bahn) or local train (S-Bahn), follow the bus signs to reach the regional Bus Terminal.

In Laxenburg

- Another way is the regional train R95 with destination Traiskirchen Aspangbahn Bahnhof. It runs every hour at H:24 and stops at Laxenburg-Biedermannsdorf Bahnhof, which is 15 min walking from IIASA.

From the airport, you can:

- Take a train to Wien Hauptbahnhof, and then take the bus 200/210 or train R95 to IIASA; see above.
- Take a taxi, which would cost about 70€

Social dinner

The Electronics and Telecommunications Research Institute (ETRI) has very kindly and generously offered to cover the expenses of our social event.

This will be a dinner, on Thursday, April 18 at the traditional Austrian restaurant (Heuriger) Altes Zechhaus & Weingut, situated in the village of Gumpoldskirchen.

A bus will take us from IIASA at 18:00. To go back to Vienna, we can take the train at the station Gumpoldskirchen https://maps.app.goo.gl/8KTnUunbCwr2tAuS8. Trains run regularly until late at night.
