

Workshop AGENDA

Developing water, energy, and land nexus scenarios for the Indus Basin

Integrated Solutions for Water, Energy, and Land (ISWEL) project
29-30 May 2018, Vienna, Austria

Day 1 (29 May)
8.15	Leave from hotel lobby
8.30-9.00	Registration at the venue
9:00-9.15	Welcome Simon Langan, IIASA Astrid Hillers, GEF Robert Novak, UNIDO
9.15-10.30	Getting to know each other: introductions and icebreaker
10:30-11:00	Coffee break
11:00-12:30	Water-Energy-Land Nexus – challenges and opportunities – overview presentations: Indus Basin Vision- Why is it needed? David Grey, Oxford University Integrated Solutions for Water, Energy, and Land in the Indus, Simon Parkinson, IIASA Nexus issues in the Indus Basin: countries’ backgrounds, 15’ presentation by countries, (speakers TBC)
12:30-13:30	Lunch
13:30-14:00	Scenario development for the Indus Basin Piotr Magnuszewski, IIASA
14:00-15:30	Reviewing current situation in the Indus Basin and its major challenges work in groups and presentations of results
15:30-16:00	Coffee break
16:00-17:30	Developing future pathways: “business as usual” work in groups and presentations of results
17.30-18.00	Summary of the day, plans for the next day
18.00	Return to hotel
19.00-21.00	Social Dinner

Day 2 (30 May)

9:00-9:30	Introduction to Day 2
9:30-10:30	Developing Indus visions (desired futures) and pathways leading to them work in groups
10:30-11:00	Coffee break
11:00-12:30	Presentations of Indus visions and pathways from different workgroups, discussion on improvements and refinements
12:30-13:30	Lunch
13:30-15:00	Improving the robustness of pathways – addressing challenges from global scenarios work in groups
15:00-15:30	Coffee break
15:30-16:30	Review of the final pathways from different workgroups presentations from all groups
16:30-17:30	Summary of the workshop – discussion and next steps
17.30	Return to hotel
18.30-20.30	Social Dinner